Your upgraded Partner’s Hub

A quick guide to what’s new and what stays the same

> We’ve upgraded your Partner’s Hub with new tools and better performance insights. The next time you log in, you’ll be taken straight to the new dashboard automatically — no action needed on your end. Commission withdrawals and your historical data remain accessible through your Deriv account and previous dashboard as before.

What you’ll see when you log in

- See your commission balance
- Access your referral link and referral code
- Track your performance going forward

Tap View more commission details to see your full commission plan, including rates for CFDs and Options trading.

To withdraw commissions, go to your Deriv Wallet or account as you normally would. Withdrawals are not made through this dashboard.

Performance insights

- Total signups
- Clients deposited
- Active traders
- Total commissions earned
- CFDs earnings vs Options earnings
- Turnover vs Revenue Share breakdown

For your historical data, continue using your previous dashboard as you do now. It remains accessible and nothing there has changed.

What stays exactly the same

Your referral links	All your existing links keep working — no changes needed
Commission withdrawals	Withdraw through your Deriv Wallet or account, same as before
Your login	Same username and password — no reset required
Historical data	Access your full history through your previous dashboard
Profile settings	Update your profile the same way as before

How to access the new dashboard

Just log in to Partner's Hub as you normally would, using the same credentials.

Frequently asked questions

Q: Do I need to create a new account?

No. You log in exactly as you do today. The upgrade happens in the background.

Q: Will my referral links stop working?

No. All your existing referral links are fully compatible. You don’t need to update them or change any active campaigns.

Q: Where do I withdraw my commissions?

Through your Deriv Wallet or account, exactly as you do now. Withdrawals are not processed through the new dashboard.

Q: Can I still see my historical data?

Yes — through your previous dashboard, which remains active and unchanged. The new dashboard tracks your performance going forward from the date of your upgrade.

Q: What if I need to update my profile?

Profile edits are done the same way as before. The dashboard will direct you to the right place.

Q: What if something looks wrong or I need help?

Reach out to your Account Manager or contact us via live chat and WhatsApp.
