deriv

Terms and conditions

Deriv Partner First-time Trader Bonus

Version R26|03
Last updated 23/10/2026

Table of contents

1. Introduction 3
2. Qualifying clients and Bonus 3
3. Assessment and payment 4
4. Partner conduct 5
5. Fraud, abuse, and payment errors 5
6. Changes and termination 5

Deriv Partner First-time Trader Bonus

1. Introduction

1.1. These supplementary terms (the "Offer Terms") govern the Deriv Partner First-time Trader Bonus (the "Offer").

1.2. By participating in an Offer, you agree to these Offer Terms alongside the terms and conditions applicable to you as a Deriv partner (the "Business Terms").

1.3. If there is any inconsistency between these Offer Terms and the Business Terms, these Offer Terms will prevail only in relation to the Offer.

1.4. "Offer Notice" means any email, Partner App message, or other communication from Deriv setting out the details of an Offer, including the applicable Offer Period, Bonus amount, client eligibility requirements, and assessment period.

1.5. "Offer Period" means the period specified in the applicable Offer Notice during which a client must place their first trade with Deriv to qualify for the Offer.

2. Qualifying clients and Bonus

2.1. A "Qualifying Client" is a KYC-verified client who:

2.1.1. Is attributed to you before placing their first deposit with Deriv;

2.1.2. Places their first trade with Deriv during the Offer Period;

2.1.3. Meets the client eligibility requirements specified in the applicable Offer Notice;

2.1.4. Meets Deriv's applicable funding, fund-retention, and trading activity requirements; and

2.1.5. Satisfies any other eligibility and anti-abuse criteria determined by Deriv.

2.2. Deriv determines whether a client is a Qualifying Client using internal criteria, which may include criteria relating to funding, retention of funds, and trading activity. Deriv is not required to disclose the thresholds or detailed assessment criteria used, and its decision on qualification is final.

2.3. For each Qualifying Client, you may receive a bonus (the "Bonus") in the amount specified in the applicable Offer Notice. The Bonus is paid in addition to your usual partner commission.

2.4. A maximum of one Bonus is payable for each Qualifying Client under an Offer.

3. Assessment and payment

3.1. Deriv will assess whether a client qualifies for the Bonus in accordance with the assessment period specified in the applicable Offer Notice.

3.2. Deriv may reassess a client within any additional assessment period specified in the applicable Offer Notice.

3.3. If a client qualifies, the Bonus will be included in a subsequent partner commission payment.

3.4. Deriv may withhold payment while it reviews suspected fraud, abuse, self-referral, manufactured activity, or any other activity that may breach these Offer Terms or the Business Terms.

4. Partner conduct

4.1. The Offer is a partner incentive only. You must not advertise or otherwise present the Bonus as an offer or incentive available to clients.

4.2. You must not pass on any part of the Bonus to a client, directly or indirectly, including as a rebate, cashback, deposit match, gift, or other benefit.

4.3. You must not encourage a client to deposit funds, retain funds in their account, or trade for the purpose of qualifying you for the Bonus.

4.4. All marketing and promotional activity relating to clients introduced under an Offer must comply with the Business Terms, Deriv's applicable partner marketing requirements, and all applicable local laws and regulations. You are responsible for ensuring that your promotional activities comply with the laws and regulations that apply in the jurisdictions where you promote Deriv.

5. Fraud, abuse, and payment errors

5.1. Deriv may withhold, cancel, or recover a Bonus if it determines or reasonably suspects that:

5.1.1. A client or partner has engaged in fraud, self-referral, manufactured activity, manipulation, or other abusive conduct;

5.1.2. A partner or client has attempted to circumvent the intended operation or eligibility requirements of the Offer;

5.1.3. False, incomplete, or misleading information has been provided;

5.1.4. A Bonus has been paid in error; or

5.1.5. These Offer Terms or the Business Terms have been breached.

5.2. Deriv may suspend or remove a partner from the Offer where it reasonably suspects fraud, abuse, or conduct inconsistent with the intended operation of the Offer. Any action Deriv may take under the Business Terms remains unaffected.

6. Changes and termination

6.1. Deriv may amend, suspend, withdraw, or terminate the Offer by notifying participating partners.

6.2. Unless Deriv states otherwise, ending an Offer will not affect clients attributed to you before the Offer ends. Those clients may continue to qualify for the Bonus under the Offer Terms and Offer Notice that applied when they were attributed to you.

deriv